THE GRAND DAME The Lansborough, London

A butler for every room, hand-cut chandeliers, original Joshua Reynolds, gold leaf everywhere you look (including the food). It doesn't sound like a haven for children, and yet... Staff light up at the sight of young guests, who can learn to be butlers (in miniature tailcoats), be tutored in mocktail mixology by an award-winning barman, or decorate cakes in the kitchens with the head pastry chef. The small touches are just as indulgent. Rooms are kitted out not only with teddies and mini-robies but also pillowcases for kids to colour in themselves, surprise treasure hunts with rhyming clues rolled into scrolls and even personal popcorn machines. OTT for the VIP.
