From pharmacist to bartender

Jerry Thomas, born around 1830 is considered one of the most famous and most influential bartenders of the Past. Already in 1862 Jerry Thomas published the world's first cocktail book "The Bartenders Guide "and paved the way of a golden age.

CLASSIC DRINKS

Travel with us to the past and experience our exclusive selection of classic drinks from the last 150 years.

But how did this job come about?

The origin of the bartender lies many centuries back. Already the first pharmacists in history experimented with alcohols, tinctures and herbal essences to cure diseases and relieve discomfort. It was just a matter of time before the beneficial remedies became very popular.

CLASSIC DRINKS

Negroni Classic <sup>2,9</sup>

Dry gin | bitter liqueur | red vermouth

A strongly bitter drink with sweet herbal notes and a touch of orange.

Spice up your Negroni

Pisco Sour <sup>9,9</sup>

Pisco Barsol | lime | sugar | egg white | Inca bitters

To this day the two countries Peru and Chile argue about the exact origin of the “Pisco Sour”. However, the majority writes this classic cocktail to the American Victor Morris, who mixed first this modification of the whiskey sour in Lima / Peru. Every year in February the Pisco Sour Day „Día Nacional del Pisco Sour“ takes place in Peru. A world famous variant of a Sour with Peruvian grape brandy and floral bitters.

20th. Century <sup>3,10,9</sup>

Dry Gin | Kina l'Aero d'Or | cacao white | lemon

The recipe of this almost forgotten classic was first introduced in 1937, mentioned in the „Café Royal Cocktail Book“ by William Tarling and supposed to be created by the British C.A. Tuck. It owes its name „20th. Century“ due to the legendary luxury night train that was built in 1902 which operated between Chicago and New York until 1967. A symbiosis made from gin and vermouth with a hint of acidity and cocoa.

Rusty Nail <sup>2</sup>

Scotch blended whisky | Drambuie | orange

Despite its purely Scottish ingredients, the „Rusty Nail“ has its origin in the United States of the 30s. Its unusual name is said to refer to the rusty brown colour of the drink. A strong short drink with a light honey sweetness and a fine herbal note.

Vesper Martini <sup>10,9</sup>

Vodka | Kina l'Aero d'Or | dry gin

The „Vesper Martini“ is a modern classic from 2006 and comes from Ian Fleming's „James Bond-Casino Royale“. This strong Martini variant is well known as „Shaken, not stirred“.

The global success story of the Italian aperitif started in 1860.

The pioneer of the „Negroni“ is considered to be the „Milano-Torino“, whose name stands for the birthplaces of Campari and Martini, as well as the only one added a shot of water „Americano“.

NEGRONI EXPERIENCE

The world famous Italian classic
- discover fascinating new interpretations of the legendary
Florentine aperitif.

The first Americano prepared with gin instead of water ordered Count Camillo Negroni in the famous Florentine „Caffè Casoni“ in 1919. To this day this bitter-tart, after „Count Camillo Negroni“ named Aperitif is one of the most popular Drinks in the world.

We have fun - even without alcohol.

Since the 1960s alcohol-free cocktails are called „mocktails“. This word is a joking word creation from the words „cocktail“ and the english word „to mock“ („to imitate“; „to pretend“).

NON-ALCOHOLIC DRINKS

Creativity and innovation connect effortlessly in our non-alcoholic drinks. True to the motto „Drink & Drive“.

The name „Cocktail“ originated, it is said, during American cockfights in the 18th. century, in which the tail feathers from the loser are entitled to the winner, so one drank „on the cocks tail“.

NON-ALCOHOLIC DRINKS

Honey & Herbs

Natural Herbs Tea | runny honey | lime | mint

Our fine composition of Ronnefeldt herbal tea and „Brenners honey“.
A refreshingly herbaceous drink with peppermint and a fine honey sweetness.
