

THE LIBRARY BAR & WITHDRAWING ROOM

Welcome to one of the capital's most celebrated cocktail and spirit destinations – distinguished by its outstanding mixology and venerable "liquid museum". We offer the warm and intimate atmosphere of a private club accompanied by a vibrant ambiance that makes it a popular choice to enjoy drinking and socialising.

The Lanesborough has long been known for its impressive Cognac collection, spanning over 300 years of history. Bar Manager Mickael Perron has curated a new whisky collection to include single malts to appeal to every guest, from whisky novices to seasoned connoisseurs, ranging from classic Speyside single malts to collectable and extremely rare bottles.

We are excited to welcome you back to more beautifully crafted spirits and exciting flavours.

Hennessy

COGNAC

50ml 25ml

Hennessy X.O.

£35 £18

Deep and powerful, having been aged for between 15 and 30 years in young barrels, the eaux-de-vie selected as constituents of Hennessy X.O are marked out by their power and energy, but also their capacity to achieve a great roundness through time. The first & original X.O since 1870.

Paradis

£220 £110

Created in 1979, Paradis is known for its voluptuous light and round aroma, and it is named after the Hennessy found's cellar, where only the finest, oldest and rarest eaux-de-vie are kept. Depth and elegance made from 100 eaux-de-vie that have been aged for up to 130 years, Paradis lives up to the harmony of a symphonic orchestra.

Richard Hennessy

£400 £200

Exceptional eaux-de-vie matured to their fullest expression, the oldest dating back to the early 19th century. This cognac is a celebration named after Richard, an Irishman best known for founding the Hennessy Cognac dynasty. Powerful & aristocratic.

Paradis Imperial

£450 £225

Relentless and unprecedented alliance of age and finesse, only achievable by mastering the art of selection throughout eight generations of Master Blenders from the Filloux family. Only 10 out of 10,000 eaux-de-vie have the potential one day to join this blend.

Ellipse

£1,200 £600

Seven generations of savoir-fair, each leaving their own legacy harmoniously with eaux-de-vie from as early as 1771. 2000 bottles have ever been produced.

Timeless

£1,700 £850

To celebrate to the turn of the millennium, this nectar blends 11 of the finest vintages of the 20th century. Very rarely appears, even to the most demanding cognac connoisseur.

Did You Know?

The Angels' Share is the poetic name for evaporation during the maturation of the cognacs in the barrels, which leads to 2-3% loss every year. After 25 years of maturation, 50% of the initial inventory has been enjoyed by the angels.

After 50 years, this amounts to a 90% loss.

SCOTTISH SINGLE MALT WHISKY

For over 150 years, The Dalmore has set the standard in multi cask maturation. Master Distiller “The Nose” Richard Paterson searches the world for the finest casks to gracefully mature the precious new make spirit.

The multi-stage maturation results in sumptuous whiskies of legendary finesse.

The Dalmore 40 Year Old (2018 Release)

50ml

Indulgent, complex and soft, this whisky is initially matured in American white oak ex-bourbon casks, before being transferred into 30 years old Matusalem olorosso casks. The precious liquid is then blended with another spirit that started life in ex-bourbon casks, one that was laid to rest in 1970's Graham's Port Colheita casks.

£1,650

ABV:
42%

The Dalmore 35 Year Old

This inimitable aged icon is matured in bourbon, Matusalem sherry and Colheita port casks and just 1,000 bottles are released each year. Presented in a Baccarat crystal decanter bottle, the stag is produced by Royal Warrant-holding Scottish silversmiths Hamilton & Inches.

£1,000

ABV:
40%

The Dalmore 25 Year Old (2015 Release)

A perfect example of the distillery's tradition of maturing in an extensive selection of casks. Initially aged in American white oak, it is then hand-divided into 25 year old Palomino Fino sherry butts and 1980s first-fill bourbon casks. The whiskies are then married in bourbon barrels before finally enjoying some time in Tawny port pipes from Portugal producing remarkable complexity.

SCOTTISH SINGLE MALT WHISKY

Many consumers are “blinded” by the arbitrary geography of Single Malt whiskies and believe that the region dictates the flavour profile. We prefer to present our selection based on the flavour profiles of each whisky, knowing that most of the flavours and colours will come from the barrels that will be used during the maturation.

FLAVOUR PROFILES FLIGHT TO HELP YOU TO EXPLORE AND UNDERSTAND

£45.00 - 25 ml each

Enjoy & discover the flavour profile of Single Malt whiskies, comparing the taste obtained after ageing the whiskies in different type of barrels, and also the opportunity to try the famous “peat-smoky” taste.

DELICATE, FRESH FRUITS & HERBAL NOTES

Usually these whiskies will spend many years in barrels that once were used for the production of American Bourbon. The wood used to make these barrels is the American Oak - Quercus alba. Typical flavours associated with this oak are vanilla, citrus & coconut. These whiskies tend to be lighter in style.

FULL BODIED, RIPE FRUITS & SPICES

Usually these whiskies have been aged in barrels that have been seasoned in Jerez, Spain, for the production of Oloroso Sherry wines, or sometimes they also contain a blend of aged whiskies in ex Bourbon barrels. The wood used in Spain for the barrels is usually the European Oak – Quercus robur, rich in tannin and once emptied of Sherry, the typical flavours associated are dried fruits, orange citrus and spices. These whiskies tend to be heavier in style.

SMOKEY – PEPPERY – PEATY

Peat is earth that consists of compact accumulation of decomposed grasses, moss, trees, roots, dead animals and soil over thousand of years. Historically used as a source of fuel when dried, the peat burns during the drying process of barley, and the dense smoke is absorbed by the grains. This phenolic flavour remains throughout the entire whisky making process and the level of smokiness is determined by the time that the barley grain is exposed to the pungent peat smoke.
